

Draft Deschutes County Comprehensive Plan

Community Values

Deschutes County will protect the high quality of life that stems from:

- The beauty, bounty and richness of the natural environment
- A healthy and diverse economy
- Access to a wide variety of outdoor recreational opportunities
- The rural character of the community
- The balance between property rights and government regulations

Deschutes County has drafted a new Comprehensive Plan (Plan), the document that guides land use conservation and development. The Plan contains policies based on local conditions and community values and must comply with Statewide Planning Goals and regulations.

We will be accepting informal comments and suggestions on the draft Plan from October 1, 2009 to January 7, 2010. The Plan will then be revised based on comments received and a formal adoption process will begin February, 2010.
